May I Have a Snack, Mom?

Children in different parts of the world eat snacks you might find surprising. Your mom would not offer you some of these. Unscramble the words. Then draw a line from the unusual snack to a similar snack you might choose. Do you think that your snack might seem strange to children in other parts of the world?

1. If you were a good Ewondo child, your mother might reward you with these from a palm tree: _ _ _ _ _ _
(s r g u b)

Cameroon

2. When Gabbra children want a treat, their good mothers give them crispy, fried chunks of
_ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ !
(o t a g a t f)

Ethiopia

3. Morning, noon and night, Rendille children drink this as their main meal and for a snack:
_ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _
(m e c a l k i l m)

Kenya

a. It's sweet and thin like our _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ type.
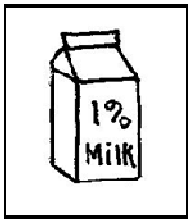
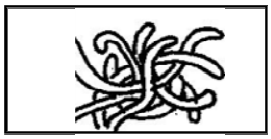
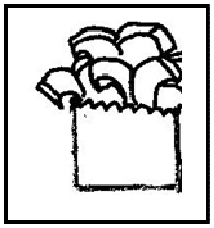
(n e o n e r t c e p)



b. You'd probably rather eat
_ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ .
(m u g y m m s o w r)



c. Do you think they taste something like our fried
_ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ ?
(k r o p s d i r n)



Wycliffe
Partners in Bible Translation

Ph. 1-403-250-5411 or toll free: 1-800-463-1143, ext. 312
If you have questions concerning this worksheet, email childrens_ministry@wycliffe.ca
More free resources like this for children can be downloaded at www.wycliffe.ca/resources/children_ministry.html